

ROOSEVELT WILL TESTIFY OCT. 4

Senator Clapp Sets Date for Colonel's Appearance.

SOURCE OF CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Committee Hearings Will Begin Next Monday and Subpoenas Have Been Issued for General Counsel Elliott and the Standard Oil Company Secretary—J. Ogden Armour and Other Packers Will Be Called.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Senator Clapp made public the names of the majority of the men who are to be summoned before the senate committee appointed to inquire into the sources of campaign contributions and ascertain the relations of senators and representatives with big corporations.

Senator Clapp, after a telephone conversation with Oscar K. Davis of the New York Progressive headquarters also announced that Friday, Oct. 4, would be set for the appearance of Colonel Roosevelt. The hearings will begin Monday.

Washington Progressives have been engaged in preparation for Colonel Roosevelt's visit to the city. Many proposals have been made for his entertainment at private homes, but these have been declined and a suite reserved at a downtown hotel. The colonel while here will address a meeting of Progressives and a street parade has been arranged.

Subpoenas have been sent by the senate sergeant-at-arms for service upon General Counsel Elliott and the secretary of the Standard Oil company in connection with the investigation of John D. Archbold's statement that he contributed $100,000 to the Roosevelt fund of 1904 in behalf of the Standard Oil company.

Required to Produce Papers.
The officials are required to produce any papers they may have bearing upon the transaction, the committee having called them in an effort to discover the receipt which Mr. Archbold said had been given him by Cornelius N. Bliss, then treasurer of the Republican national committee.

J. Ogden Armour and other representatives of the big packing houses of the United States will be called at witnesses.

The list of witnesses to be called by Senator Clapp and his associates on the committee on inquiry is being enlarged from day to day and present indications are that before the investigation is completed every prominent political leader and business man will be asked to appear.

It may be stated upon authority that it is the purpose of the committee to ascertain the truth or falsity of rumors that have been current in Washington that the protected industries have made campaign contributions for years in expectation of favors at the hands of congressional leaders. The charge has been made that these favors have been granted incident to revisions of the tariff.

The beef packers have been credited with taking a live interest in politics in the past. It is alleged that they have contributed liberally to campaign funds. Mr. Armour and others supposed to have knowledge of the facts will be asked to tell them under oath.

NAME ROOSEVELT ELECTORS

California Progressives Complete Work and Adjourn.

Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 26.—Exhausted by two days of almost continuous debate and uncertainty two California state conventions are still in session, hoping to conclude their business at this moment. A third, the Republican, adjourned.

The main all three had followed the lines laid down for them. Progressives controlled the Republican convention by 88 to 13 and elected Roosevelt to the ticket. Supporters of Taft bolted and organized separately, refusing to recognize Republicans any electors not added to the nominees of the Republican national convention; and the Democrats, supporting Bryan and Wilson, repudiated the element that had fought for Clark at Baltimore and planned a platform closely following that of the national.

JOHNSON ANSWERS CRITICS

Declares Progressive Platform Is Not Unduly Radical.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 26.—Critics of the Progressive party who have termed the social and industrial planks of the party's platform radical were answered by Governor Hiram W. Johnson, the vice presidential candidate, in speeches here and in New Haven.

"It has been charged that our platform is unduly radical," he said, "and you may think such is the case. Not so. Imperial Germany has carried out the program in fact; Royal England has gone half the way and under Lloyd-George is going the rest of the way."

ARMOUR SECURES WHEAT CORNER

Controls September Supply on Kansas City Market.

SHORTS FEELING SQUEEZE

Several Large Chicago Speculators Are Said to Have Been Forced to Settle and Other Brokers Find Themselves in Similar Predicament—Armour Company Making Profit of From Four to Seven Cents a Bushel.

Kansas City, Sept. 26.—"Shorts" on the local board of trade began to feel the "squeeze" of the Armour Grain company of Chicago, which practically has cornered September wheat in the Kansas City market.

On "change," September changed hands in fifty and one hundred thousand bushels lots and it was said that several big Chicago speculators had been caught "short" in the Kansas City market and, being unable to deliver, were forced to settle with the Armour company, which had the long end of their contracts.

September wheat sold for as high as 90½ cents in Kansas City, an eighth of a cent above the highest September quotation in Chicago. Under normal conditions prices should be 5 to 7 cents lower here than in Chicago.

The present corner is the biggest deal ever undertaken on the Kansas City board of trade and it has upset the calculations and diminished the profits of nearly all the wheat handlers and millers in the local market, because it has sent Kansas City prices out of line with prices in all the rest of the country.

More than 3,000,000 bushels of wheat have already been delivered on September contracts to the Chicago firm, contracts for probably more than 1,000,000 bushels have been settled with delivery and there remains, according to local grain men, a considerable open interest to be closed in one way or the other on the remaining business days of the month, so that the total Armour holdings of September contracts were about 5,000,000 bushels.

Grain men say the Armour company has made a profit of 4 to 7 cents a bushel on the 1,000,000 bushels or more that has been sold to "shorts" in the pit, but it has 3,000,000 or more of wheat in the elevators and on track here on which the profit is said to be little, because it cannot be sold at present Kansas City prices and can not be shipped anywhere except at a considerable discount.

$3,250,000 BUYS RAILROAD

Wisconsin and Illinois Divisions of Electric Line Auctioned.

Racine, Wis., Sept. 26.—The Wisconsin division of the Chicago and Milwaukee Electric Railroad company was sold here by Charles E. Morrison, master in chancery, for $1,600,000. The property was bid in by Jacob Newman of Chicago, representing Harry E. Smith and Norman J. Ford, as joint tenants, but not tenants in common.

The Illinois division was purchased for the same parties, representing bondholders, for $1,650,000, or a total of $3,250,000.

PRAYED WITH DYING BOY

Man Who Accidentally Shot Him Confesses to Father.

Devils Lake, N. D., Sept. 26.—Kneeling beside Anton J. Bryn, aged fourteen, who had been mortally wounded by a bullet accidentally discharged from his rifle, Iver P. Lokken, at the injured boy's request, began with him the Lord's Prayer. Only half had been completed when the boy died.

This is the story told by Lokken, who has confessed to the father of the lad that it was a shot from his rifle, rather than from the boy's own gun, that killed him. At the time it was supposed the boy's death was caused by his own carelessness. Lokken's story came when the man broke down after keeping his secret several days.

MME. NORDICA.

Will Talk and Sing to Voters During Husband's Campaign.

NORDICA WILL TAKE STUMP

Famous Diva Will Address and Sing Before Voters.

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 26.—Unusual interest attaches to the announcement of Mme. Nordica, who in private life is Mrs. George K. Young, wife of a New York broker, that she will take the stump in New Jersey on behalf of her husband, who is a candidate for state senator.

Mme. Nordica, outlining her plans, says she will address the voters and afterwards sing for them, if that were desired. So many calls have been made for her services that it is realized she must confine her efforts to a few of the larger meetings, as she would otherwise be singing night and day and then not fill all the engagements open.

HIGHLAND INFANTRY GOING TO BELFAST

Scotch Troops to Aid in Keeping Order Ulster Day.

Belfast, Ireland, Sept. 26.—Regiments of Highland light infantry and Scottish borderers will be drafted into Belfast in anticipation of trouble Saturday, Ulster day, when the covenant in defiance of home rule is to be signed by Ulsterites. The Royal Irish rifles, already stationed here, are confined to barracks in readiness for emergencies.

More than a thousand members of "Young Citizen Volunteers of Ireland" were enrolled. The new organization is to assist when called upon by the civil authorities in the maintenance of peace.

The demonstration at Portadown was one of the most remarkable of the campaign owing to the display of armed force and the enormous number of Orangemen and Unionists who assembled to greet Sir Edward Carson and other Unionist leaders. Sir Edward declared that they were performing the obsequies of home rule.

Frederick E. Smith, M. P., for Liverpool, expressed the opinion that the battle already was won. He added: "The government, even if it has the wickedness, wholly lacks the nerve to order the British army to use coercion in Ulster."

The streets of Belfast are being gaily decorated for Saturday. There has been an enormous sale of Union Jacks.

ROOSEVELT DROPS POLITICS

Talks Deep Waterways and Bear Hunting Instead.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 26.—Former President Roosevelt dropped his campaign and talked deep waterways and bear hunting instead. He spent most of the day in Little Rock, Ark., and came to Memphis.

There was one brief incursion into politics, however, during the day. When he was on his way from Little Rock to Memphis the colonel went out to his platform to greet those who had gone into the rain to see him as he passed through. He talked to them for a moment.

"You ought to belong to the Progressive party," he said, "if for no other reason than that we are trying to abolish boss rule."

GIRL BETRAYED AND SLAIN

Pitiful Story Revealed by Double Crime at Salt Lake City.

Salt Lake City, Sept. 26.—The murder of Mrs. Mary Theodorson, followed by the suicide of a Greek, Thomas Tiogus, brought out a pitiful story of betrayal and mistreatment. Mrs. Emily Whitmer, the girl's mother, relates that her daughter married James Theodorson eighteen months ago at Ogden. With his bride, not yet eighteen years old, Mrs. Whitmer says, Theodorson moved to Denver, where an attempt was made to sell Mrs. Theodorson into white slavery and the husband was sentenced to prison.

Mrs. Theodorson was shot and killed by Tiogus on the street when she refused to comply with his demand that she give him money.

THE CAMPAIGN NEEDS "GINGER"

Lack of Funds May Account For Absence of Interest.

PANAMA CANAL AND THE NAVY.

Great Waterway, Proclaimed as Adding Additional Strength to the Country, Really Means an Enormously Increased Expense—The Useless Canadian Boundary Commission.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Sept. 26.—"I don't see people tumbling over one another trying to get to any of them," was an observation I heard when there was discussion of the presidential candidates. For the most part, people seem to be ready to talk about almost anything rather than politics. Perhaps it is because there are no large amounts of money in the campaign chests of the different parties. "Money makes the mare go," and it also stimulates interest in politics, as shown by the methods of Mark Hanna in 1896 and 1900.

Needs Some "Ginger."

Four years ago, after a tour of a number of states, I stopped in Washington and told President Roosevelt that no one was taking any interest in the campaign. "It needs some ginger," he remarked, and at once proceeded to put "ginger" into the discussion in the way in which he was so effective when in the White House. Mr. Roosevelt has enlivened the issues to a great extent, but even at that "ginger" is manifestly lacking at present.

Big Ship Worries.

Our naval officers have been continually insisting upon big ships, and every time a keel is laid it is for a still greater Dreadnought. The idea is to have a big ship to meet the big ship of a foreign country, more particularly England or Germany. But our big ships are not always successful. It has been shown in recent reports that in those things which go to make up efficient sea fighters the big ships fall far behind the others. This relates particularly to target practice, drills and evolutions.

There are such things as making a thing so big that it is clumsy or falls of its own weight. However, the limit it not yet reached, and bigger ships must continue to be built as long as we are going to fight Germany, England or Japan. We are always fighting one or the other in the minds of our warlike officers.

Another Reason For the Navy.

But aside from fighting one or the other of the great powers of the earth, it appears that our war experts have found that a big navy, two fleets in fact, are necessary to protect the Panama canal. Our people, when they were let in for the expenditure of $500,000,000 for the canal were told that it would be a wonderful protection to the country. We were told that if an enemy attacked our Atlantic coast the war vessels on the Pacific could be brought through the canal. And in case of an attack on the Pacific side the Atlantic ships would be available. All this was accentuated by the useless trip of the Oregon around South America to fight decrepit old Spain.

And now it appears that instead of adding additional strength to the country we must have two fleets, besides fortifications and an army, to protect a canal which will be used almost exclusively by foreigners. But ours is a big nation and likes to do big things.

"The Deeds of Commission."

There is no tariff board now, nor is the monetary commission anything save a memory whose monument is a big pile of musty tomes which nobody will read and which would be understood by people if they should be sent to read them. But while some commissions were dismantled and thrown into the scrap heap others were created and continue to draw salaries. About the most useless of these is the so-called Canadian boundary commission. It was created to give congressional "plume d'acier" places.

Tom Carter and Jim Tawney fell into these comfortable berths when their congressional careers were ended. Poor Carter did not live long to enjoy it, but Tawney still holds the place.

Fitzgerald's Joke.

In the general scheme of economy outlined by John J. Fitzgerald, chairman of the committee on appropriations, he did not see fit to cut off this Canadian boundary commission. "I suppose some sort of plan like that should be made permanent for ex-chairmen of the committee on appropriations," he jokingly remarked, referring to the fact that Tawney had formerly been chairman of that committee.

Perhaps Fitz had a fellow feeling for Tawney, with whom he served for a number of years. Both were strong for economy, but even a strong economy advocate is sometimes looking out for his own chance, as Tawney did.

Excluding the Negroes.

When the senate passed the immigration bill the amendment of Senator Williams to exclude negroes as well as Mongolians was lost only by a narrow majority of three. It was brought out in the debates that immigration from the West Indies increased from 4,700 in 1902 to 13,403 in 1911. These were all negroes seeking employment.

WILLIAM MARCONI.

Injured in an Auto Collision in Italy.

WILLIAM MARCONI INJURED

Wireless Inventor in Auto Accident in Italy.

Spezia, Italy, Sept. 26.—William Marconi of wireless fame was injured in an automobile accident near Borghetto, in the valley of the Vara river. While the extent of his injuries has not been entirely disclosed he was brought back to this city suffering from a wound of the right eye and his right cheek and temple were badly bruised. He also was severely bruised about the body.

Mr. Marconi was motoring with his wife and shortly after passing Borghetto, in turning a short curve, his machine came into collision with an automobile which was proceeding from Genoa. Both cars were overturned.

JAPAN SUFFERS FROM RAVAGES OF TYPHOON

Great Loss of Life and Heavy Property Damage.

Tokio, Sept. 26.—A typhoon swept over Japan the night of Sept. 22. There was much loss of life and heavy damage to property and shipping.

A torpedo boat and destroyers Tachibana and Fubuki were sunk in Ise bay.

Tokio has been completely isolated since Sept. 22. The typhoon carried down all the telegraph lines. The most disastrous effects of the storm were felt along the south coast. At Yokohama the French armored cruiser Duplex dragged her anchors and went ashore. She was pulled off, however, the following day.

At Shimonoeki a Russian mail boat foundered. The casualties are unknown. Losses to shipping have been very serious. The Japanese battleship Satsuma and the tender Manshu were damaged. Four destroyers and five torpedo boats were driven ashore. There was a heavy loss of life at Nagoya, capital of the prefecture of Aichi, island of Honshu, where a school and other buildings collapsed.

CHARGES AGAINST BANKERS

Accused of Aiding in Failure of Private Institution.

Bellingham, Wash., Sept. 26.—E. W. Andrews, president of the Seattle National bank; Jacob Furth, R. V. Anderson and Daniel Kelleher, officers of the same bank, are charged in an information filed in the superior court with "aiding and abetting" in the failure of W. E. Schriener & Co., private bankers of La Conner. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the Seattle capitalists and were forwarded to Seattle.

The La Conner bank failed April 16 of this year with $225,709 on deposit and with hardly any assets. It is alleged in the information filed that the Seattle bankers had loaned the La Conner bank $80,000 shortly before the doors were closed and that they knew of the condition of the bank.

TALKS TO WAR GOVERNORS

President Taft Attends Celebration at Altoona, Pa.

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 26.—President Taft was the principal speaker at Altoona's celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the meeting here of the loyal war governors who decided that Abraham Lincoln and his war policy should be upheld and his call for more troops should be met promptly with volunteers.

The president's speech dealt almost entirely with the conferences of the war governors, but he reserved a sentence or two for prosperity talk.

Falling Walls Bury Workmen.

Kansas City, Sept. 26.—Three workmen were buried beneath the walls of the new Alameda hotel, in course of construction here, which collapsed when the concrete forms that upheld the fifth and top floor of the structure were being removed.

OPPOSES RECALL OF JUDICIARY

SWANLAND GUILTY OF MURDER

He Testified Victim Appeared to Him in Form of Woodchuck.

Benidj, Minn., Sept. 26.—Guilty of murder in the first degree was the verdict returned here against Charles Swanland, who shot and killed his neighbor, David Widstrom, near Kellher, last May.

Swanland's defense was insanity and on the stand in his own behalf he said he shot Widstrom because he appeared to him in the form of a woodchuck and that as soon as he shot the woodchuck turned into a man. Swanland was examined a few days before and was found sane.

His attorney, P. J. Russell, made a motion for a new trial. Pending this motion Judge C. W. Stanton granted a stay of sentence for ten days.

FAMILY FOUND MURDERED

Kansas Man, Wife and Daughter Shot and Skulls Crushed.

Wellington, Kan., Sept. 26.—Theodore McKnelly, a car repairer, and his daughter Greta, were found dead and Mrs. McKnelly died without having regained consciousness in a tent on the outskirts of Wellington, whether they recently had moved for the daughter's health. All three had been shot and their skulls crushed. Robbery is believed to have been the motive.

A bloody baseball bat lay near by. There were knife wounds on the bodies of both women and evidence of attack.

PROMISES TARIFF REVISION

President Hints at Extra Session if Re-Elected.

New York, Sept. 26.—In a campaign interview given out President Taft unequivocally promised a revision of the tariff downward should he be re-elected and hinted at an extra session of congress to bring about that revision should the Republicans control the next congress.

He declared that the third party trust plan, with an unscrupulous man as president, might lead to a dictatorship that only revolution could remove.

For three days the Nebraskan has been hurrying up and down the state, delivering in that time more than a score of speeches and taking side trips that caused him to traverse a total of 1,600 miles.

The Men Who Succeed

As heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, today, demands health. To all is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders, and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Fear of the Dark

Are you afraid of the dark? Most children are and many grownups. Even the bravest of men, in a house of which he knows every square foot, feels more at his ease when the lights are up than when he is in the dark. The reason, psychologists say, is that darkness always spells danger to our savage ancestors. When man was all but a wild beast, living in the open among the other animals, his ingenuity made him their equal in the daytime. But in the night he was helpless against a crouching foe, and darkness often meant death. And, in spite of our civilization, this instinctive hatred of darkness still survives though in a weakened form.—Pearson's.

CORSETS PREVENT DISEASE.

Such is Opinion of German Professors After Research.

Two Berlin medical experts, Hirschfeld and Loewy, appear as champions of women's corsets. Their advocacy is qualified, but so far as it goes it is wholehearted, for they have satisfied themselves that corsets may be preventives of disease in the possessors of "paralytic thorax," who are particularly prone to consumption.

The professors reached this opinion through exhaustive experiments with respiration, aided by the X rays. They say, however, that if the disease has already developed the corsets are harmful.

DR. M'GEE WAS NOTED GEOLOGIST

Bequeathed His Body For Dissection and Brain to Science.

A SELF EDUCATED SCIENTIST

Explored Tiburon Island in 1893—Was Author of Many Important Works. Defined Love as a Real "Disorder of the Mind."

Dr. W. J. McGee, geologist, anthropologist, hydrologist, author, secretary to the inland waterways commission and expert in the agricultural department, who died in Washington recently, was born on a farm in Dubuque county, Ia., fifty-nine years ago.

Dr. McGee attended country schools in Iowa for a short time, but his education was chiefly acquired by private study, which he commenced while engaged in farm work, when he was between ten and twenty years old. His self education and practical work had made him one of the foremost men in geology and kindred sciences. While continuing his country life he studied Latin, higher mathematics, astronomy, law and surveying, appeared as attorney in courts and worked at land surveying in 1874-76. He invented and patented a number of agricultural instruments, working at forge and bench from 1877 to 1881. He made a study of geology and archeology, and from 1877 to 1881 he made a geological and topographical survey of north eastern Iowa, the most extensive ever executed in America up to that time without national or state aid, covering 17,000 square miles.

After examining and reporting upon the building stones of Iowa for the tenth census Dr. McGee in 1893 became geologist in the United States geological survey and was engaged seven years in surveying and mapping 300,000 square miles in the southeastern section of the United States and compiled geological maps of New York and the United States. In 1893 he was appointed ethnologist in charge of the bureau of American ethnology, during which he explored Tiburon island, Gulf of California, where he made a study of a savage tribe never before recorded. He also investigated the Charleston earthquake. In 1903 he resigned from the bureau to become chief of the department of anthropology in the Louisiana Purchase exposition at St. Louis.

Held Government Positions.

When the inland waterways commission was created in 1907 Dr. McGee was appointed a member by President Roosevelt, and at the same time he was appointed soil expert in the department of agriculture. He was later made secretary of the commission and held that position to the time of his death. He was one of the most effective advocates and promoters of organized effort among scientific men. He was president of the American Anthropological association, vice president of the National Geographic society, vice president of the Archaeological Institute of America, one of the editors of the National Geographic Magazine and member of many other societies and one of the founders of the Geological Society of America and the Columbia Historical society. He was the author of many important works. Dr. McGee defined love as a real "disorder of the mind. Nobody is proof against an attack of it. To speak of it as a disarrangement of the faculties," he wrote, "is by no means to describe it in terms too strong." Dr. McGee never had a given name other than the initials "W. J." by which he signed his name and also insisted that he be addressed by those initials without periods after them. He was married in 1888 to Anita Newcomb, a noted physician, daughter of the late Professor Simon Newcomb of the University of California.

Dr. McGee left a will bequeathing his body and brain for anatomical and scientific study to Dr. Edward Anthony Spitzka, the famous Philadelphia anatomist and neurologist.

Disposition of Body and Brain. Arrangements for the disposition of the body and brain of Dr. McGee in the interest of science were made during the last three months of his life. Through Colonel Henry C. Rizer, chief clerk of the United States geological survey, letters were exchanged for Dr. McGee with Dr. Spitzka arranging for the bequest of Dr. McGee's body and brain to the specialist, also for the bequest to him of the brain of the late Dr. J. W. Powell, former director of the geological survey, which had been in Dr. McGee's custody since Dr. Powell's death. Dr. McGee was America's greatest geologist at the time of his death.

The will made by Dr. McGee in June declares: Pursuant to an intention fixed in early manhood on learning that a certain state provided by law that medical graduates should have had dissecting room experience and yet made no provision for requisite subjects. Conformably with the shocking economic waste represented by the cities of the dead in the long settled portions of the country, and in accordance with my custom of devoting my efforts and myself to the public good I give and bequeath my body for purposes of dissection to any medical college selected by my executor except that my brain go with that of the late J. W. Powell, now in my custody, to Dr. E. A. Spitzka of Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia, for study and preservation at his discretion.

Queen Bess' Giant.

Queen Elizabeth had a Flemish porter who was over eight feet high and of great strength, and he was an extremely good natured man. Whenever he met any one who was abnormally tall he used to patronize him in a friendly sort of way, and on one occasion when he met at an inn two soldiers who were over six feet in height he said, "Come under my arms, my little fellows." And, taking them up, he walked down the room with them under his arms as if they had been children, much to their disgust.

Uncle Ezra Says

"It don't take more'n a gill uv effort to git folks into a peck of trouble" and a little neglect of constipation, biliousness, indigestion or other liver derangement will do the same. If ailing, take Dr. King's New Life Pills for quick results. Easy, safe, sure and only 25 cents at all druggists. tfs

First Printing Press.

The first printing press in the eastern settlement of America was set up in 1638. In the summer of that year a ship bearing a printing press, a printer and three pressmen arrived on the shores of New England, the printer being Stephen Daye. In the same year the press was set up at Cambridge. One of the earliest and perhaps the most celebrated of the issues was "The Bay Psalm Book." It is interesting to know that the actual press is still preserved. After various wanderings in Boston, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Vermont it was found in Windsor county and presented to the Vermont Historical society.

BUSH MAKES GOOD WITH THE ATHLETICS

With Score 5 to 4 Against Philadelphia He Enters Game in 6th Inning and Wins Out

COLUMBUS EXHIBITION GAME

Bush Allows But One Hit in the Four Innings He Pitched Against Columbus Sept. 23

Monday, September 23, may not be the most auspicious combination of dates in the world, but it marks the entry of Leslie Bush into big league company and, as predicted by the Dispatch, Bush arrived with both feet and made the same kind of a hit which he did when he burst on the baseball horizon at Missoula, Mont., and pulled a game out of the fire and landed a game for the Highlanders when two pitchers had gone to pieces.

The scene was Columbus, Ohio, and the occasion of Bush's first public playing with the Philadelphia Athletics was an exhibition game staged with the Columbus team at Neil park.

Covaleskie and Lapp formed the battery which worked five innings for the Athletics during which time Columbus garnered 5 runs to Philadelphia's 4. Covaleskie allowed 5 hits, and was then pulled out of the game.

With the score 5 to 4 against him, Bush was called to the box. The Columbus Citizen, in its pink extra, states: "Bush, a recruit from Missoula, Mont., of the Union association, went into the box for the Athletics, with Egan to catch him. This was Bush's first effort for the Mackmen. Pitcher Cook fanned, O'Rourke flied to E. Murphy, right field, Hinchman also flied to Murphy. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh inning—

Philadelphia—Maggert out, Gerber to Miller. Collins singled past second. Barry flied to Shelton. McInnes forced Collins. Perring to O'Rourke. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Columbus—John out, Collins (second base) to McInnes (first base). Perring lined to E. Murphy. Miller singled to right. Shelton forced Miller. Barry to Collins. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Eighth inning—Philadelphia—Walsh flied to Shelton. Mathes singled to center. Egan forced Mathes. Cook to O'Rourke. Bush fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Columbus—Gerber flied to E. Murphy. L. Murphy fanned. Cook fouled to Walsh. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth innings—Philadelphia—E. Murphy beat out a bunt. Maggart walked. Collins beat out a bunt, filling the bases. Barry safe on Gerber's fumble. E. Murphy scoring. McInnes forced Maggart at the plate. Gerber to L. Murphy. In trying to complete a double play, L. Murphy hit McInnes in the back. Collins and Barry scoring. McInnes scored on a passed ball. Walsh out, Cook to Miller. Mathes flied to Shelton. Four runs, two hits, two errors.

Columbus—O'Rourke fanned. Hinchman popped to Collins. Johns out.

For quick work, look at the last inning Bush pitched. Warmed up and encouraged by the spurt his team had made in running in four tallies, Bush settled down to work and disposed of Columbus in the shortest inning of the game.

In his letter to the Dispatch Bush says: "Just a few lines to let you know about my first game. We played an exhibition game here at Columbus and they started a pitcher by the name of Covaleskie, for Philadelphia and Columbus got 5 runs off of him in 5 innings. "They took him out in the 5th and put me in when the score was 5 to 4 and I pitched the last four innings. They only got 1 hit off of me and no runs and in the 9th inning we made 4 runs and beat them, so I get credit for winning the game.

"Connie Mack is a fine manager, believe me. He treats me fine and he thinks I have got a lot of speed. Well, I got a good start anyway by winning my first game."

McNAMARA TO MAKE CONTEST

Engages Russell & Barron to Protect His Interests in Coroner's Election Contest

WHAT THE GROUNDS MAY BE

Rumored That Dr. C. A. Nelson Used the Prefix of Doctor on the Ballots

It is rumored that B. C. McNamara, who was one of the contestants for the republican nomination for coroner at the recent primary election, will contest the election of Dr. C. A. Nelson.

The returns made show that it was about an even battle between McNamara and Nelson, McNamara polling 852 and Nelson 856 votes.

Mr. McNamara would say nothing about the reported contest and referred to his attorneys, Russell & Barron, and the latter would give out no information.

It is believed, according to political gossip, that Mr. McNamara will in his contest object to the use by Nelson of the prefix Dr. on the primary ballots.

If the contest is instituted it will be the first suit filed in years for a county office.

SUCKED MATCHES, DIES IN AGONY

Rosella, the Little Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Magnan Succumbs to Poison

FUNERAL AT ST. MATHIAS

All Efforts to Save the Baby Were Unavailing and She Died at the Home of the Family

Rosella, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Magnan, prominent farmers of St. Mathias while playing with matches sucked and absorbed the poison and died in awful agony.

Everything possible was done to save the baby, but the deadly poison had done its work and she was past all earthly aid when she was found among the box of matches strewn on the floor. The parents are grief stricken. Rosella was two and one-half years old, just the age when a child is inquisitive and must walk about and explore everything it sees.

The funeral will be held Friday from the Catholic church at St. Mathias. Father Lamy officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Magnan are old residents of this section of the county. Their many friends extend their sincere sympathy to them in their sad hour of bereavement.

Crosby, Minn., Sept. 26—Business conditions in Crosby could not be better than at the present time. The mines are working large crews. The drills at and near Crosby are kept busy. Houses are being built in all sections to accommodate the increasing population.

Lake View addition, as mentioned by W. S. Pitt, is rapidly building up. Many people have bought lots there during the summer and have built homes. Hale's addition has 15 houses under course of construction.

Many working men of Virginia are buying lots in the southwest section of Crosby. Eli Storck bought lot 27, block 9; John Anderlich lot 29, block 2; Swan Maki lot 23, block 2. These are all business lots.

The Linnemann Clothing store of H. W. Linnemann of Brainerd, has had installed two large glass suit cases and a large hat case, both of the latest design. The store is doing an ever increasing business.

ERECTING PLANT

The Cuyuna Range Power Company is Erecting a Transmission Plant at Ironton

The Cuyuna Range Power company is erecting a transmission plant in Ironton, the fireproof cement building being situated in lots 5 and 6, block 12. This company is continually improving its service in the range towns and now supplies Deerwood, Cuyuna, Oreland, Crosby and Ironton with light and power. It furnishes light to the Armour mines near Ironton.

The company will furnish light to Barrows. Work on its dam on the Crow Wing river is progressing favorably.

ORELAND NOTES

Oreland, Minn., Sept. 26—Large Jack screws, as large in circumference as ordinary heating stoves, have been received at the Adams mine. It is said the hydraulic jacks will be placed against the old section of the shaft and pressure will then be exerted on the new section which will be pushed to ledge.

Contractor Bumgardner, who has a contract leveling off ground for side tracks and for the stockpile at the mine, will soon complete his work. He expects to get through with the shovels in a few days.

The advent of the miners now at work in the shaft has given a busy appearance to Oreland.

HON. JOHN LIND VISITS RANGE

Former Governor of Minnesota Interested in Mining Land in Section 33-47-29

DRILLING AN ARTESIAN WELL

On Wm. C. White Property—Results Being Watched By Village of Deerwood

Deerwood, Minn., Sept. 26—Hon. John Lind, former governor of Minnesota, visited Deerwood and the Cuyuna range Saturday and Sunday and in company with John A. Oberg, and Frank Oberg covered the scene of mining operations and development work. A trip was made to section 33, township 47, range 29 and in the north half of the northeast quarter of this section Governor Lind, F. E. Kenesta, of the Minnesota Land & Colonization company, Frank Oberg and John A. Oberg have interests. The Iron Mountain Mining Co. has valuable holdings near by. Mr. Lind has recently returned from Sweden and visited the scene of his old home in Smaland, southern Sweden, where the Obergs formerly also resided. Sweden has undergone a great change. Electric light is used throughout the country. Telephones are found in city and country, every farmer having a phone at his house.

An artesian well is being sunk at the home of Attorney Wm. C. White at Reno lake and the results attained will be watched with interest by the entire village of Deerwood. If a good vein of water is struck, the village may commence the sinking of wells in order to provide a pure water supply for the town.

William Rock, of Duluth, was at Deerwood during the week looking after his various mining interests. Rev. LaRhee, the Methodist minister, and Miss Agnes Magnusson, were married at Aitkin.

A heating plant is being installed in the Oberg house which has been leased by T. F. Cole.

Milnor Wambold and family visited friends and relatives in Wadena Saturday. Mr. Wambold returning home Tuesday.

Messrs. Locker and John Helmer were on the range Monday and Tuesday.

National Bank Examiner J. R. Smith visited the First National bank of Deerwood on his regular trip of inspection and found everything in first class shape.

E. F. Real, of Grafton, Neb., who has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lamb, returned to his home on Tuesday.

It was Frank Grey and not Louis Reid who was shot in the shoulder while squirrel hunting. The young Reid boy had a 22 target rifle and accidentally inflicted a flesh wound, striking Grey in the left arm. The boy is recovering and no complications of any kind have set in.

Mrs. Richard Olson is ill at a hospital in Brainerd.

The First National bank of Deerwood has a large bull moose head which Cashier H. J. Ernster says they would be willing to sell to the Bull Moose party.

F. K. Dwyer gave a lecture on Turkish customs at Deerwood Wednesday evening. He sang in four different languages, Turkish, Persian, Armenian and English. He gave an exhibition of the Mohammedan prayer according to their formalities. His lecture covered the manners, customs, history, religion and languages of all nations throughout the Turkish empire.

When Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stevenson returned to Duluth after spending their summer outing at Deerwood they were accompanied by their two sons, John aged 10 and Billy aged 12 who distinguished themselves in a heroic rescue of two drowning boys on Reno lake. The Stevenson lads observed a sail boat manped by two Y. M. C. A. boys from An Ingenious Ruse.

Herodotus tells of an ingenious ruse employed to carry an important message through the lines of the enemy. Histiaeus, being anxious to give Aristagoras orders to revolt, could think of no means to send the message to his ally, as all the roads were carefully guarded. Finally he hit upon a scheme. Calling his trustiest servant to him, he ordered that the man's hair be shaved off. He then picked the desired message on the scalp of the slave and dispatched him upon the errand. The messenger passed safely through the lines, and when he reached Aristagoras his head was again shaved and the message read.

ONE DAY IN PARIS

An Experience During the Riotous Times of the Commune.

DEATH STALKED THE ROADS.

An Unarmed Procession Bearing Banners of Peace and Good Will Was Mowed Down by Cannon Planted in the Streets—A Woman's Adventure.

In Harper's Mme. de Hegemann-Lindencrone tells of her experiences in Paris during the commune. One day's adventures are typical. On March 29, 1871, she writes:

"Today there was a great demonstration in the streets.

"A young fellow named Henri de Pene thought if he could collect enough people to follow him he would lead them to the barricades in the Place Vendome in order to beg the communards in the name of the people to restore order and quiet in the city. He sent word beforehand that they would come there unarmed.

"I happened to go at 1 o'clock to Worth's, in the Rue de la Paix, and, finding the street barred, I left my coupe in the Rue des Petit Champs, telling Louis (my coachman) to wait for me in the Rue St. Arnaud (just behind the Rue de la Paix), and I walked to No. 7.

"I wondered why there were so few people in the street. The Place Vendome was barricaded with paving stones, and cannons were pointing down the Rue de la Paix. I walked quietly along to Worth's, and hardly had I reached his salon than we heard distant, confused sounds, and then the shouting in the street below made us all rush to the windows.

"What a sight met our eyes! This handsome young fellow De Pene, his hat in his outstretched hand, followed by a crowd of men, women and children, looked the picture of life, health and enthusiasm.

"The crowd bore banners on which were written 'Les Amis du Peuple,' 'Amis de l'Ordre,' 'Pour la Paix' and one with 'Nous ne sommes pas armes.'

"One can't imagine the horror we felt when we heard the roar of a cannon and looking down saw the street filled with smoke and frightened screams and terrified groans reached our ears. Some one dragged me inside the window and shut it down to drown the horrible noise outside. De Pene was the first who was killed. The street was filled with dead and wounded.

"I felt terribly agitated and, moreover, deathly sick. My one thought was to reach my carriage and get home as quickly as possible. But how was I to accomplish it? The Rue de la Paix was, of course, impossible. Worth had a courtyard, but no outlet into the Rue St. Arnaud. He suggested that I should go through his attelers, which he had at the top of the house, and reach an adjoining apartment, from which I might descend to the Rue St. Arnaud, where I would find my carriage. He told one of his women to lead the way, and I followed. We toiled up many flights of wearisome steps until we arrived at the above mentioned attelers. These communicated with another apartment, of which Worth's woman had the key. On her opening the door we found ourselves in a small bedroom (not in the tidiest condition), seeming to have just been occupied. We passed through this room and came out to a staircase, where the demoiselle said, 'You have only to go down here.'

"When at last I came to the porte-cochere I found it closed and locked, and the frightened concierge would not open for me. Fortunately I had a gold piece to make her yield to my demand. She reluctantly unfastened the door, and I went out. The street was filled with a terrified mob, howling and flying in every direction. I caught a glimpse of the carriage away up the street, and I saw a hand gesticulating above the heads of the crowd, which I recognized as Louis'. It was the only one with a glove on.

"I pushed my way through the mass of people, saying very politely 'Pardonnez-moi' after I had passed.

"My horse had been unharnessed, and a man was trying to lead him away in spite of Louis' remonstrances.

"The man holding the bridle opposite to Louis seemed a most formidable person to me. Still I tried to smile with placid calmness, and, though I was shaking all over, said, 'Pardonnez-moi, monsieur, will you permit me to have my carriage harnessed? I think he was completely taken off his guard, for, with the intuitive gallantry of a Frenchman, he answered most amiably, throwing back his coat and showing me his badge. 'I am the agent of the salut publique, and it is for the government that I take your horse.'

"I made him observe that it would be very difficult for me to walk to my home in the Rue de Courcelles and if his government wanted the horse it could come there and fetch it. He looked doubtfully at me as if weighing the situation, then said, very courteously, 'I understand, madame, and give you back your horse,' and he even helped Louis to reharness the horse, who seemed happy to return to his shafts.

"When I arrived home I had to go to bed. I was so exhausted. Mme. W. administered the infallible camomille tea, her remedy for every ill. She cannot conceive of any disease which is not cured by camomille tea unless in extreme, when fleurs d'orange takes its place."

LEGLESS BOY SWIMS.

Philadelphia Lad of Fourteen Masters Art Despite Affliction.

Charles F. Parvis, instructor of swimming attached to the Philadelphia board of education, has just accomplished the extraordinary feat of teaching a legless boy to swim in the public bathhouse.

The boy who has accomplished the feat of swimming is Tysen Detwiler, fourteen years old. When he was six years of age he was so badly injured by a freight train at a grade crossing that he has had to get along the best he could on crutches ever since. Despite his affliction he is in the seventh grade in school.

This summer the boy told his father he wanted to learn to swim, and he was taken to the public bathhouse. He has mastered several difficult strokes so effectively that he can swim at least half a mile without changing his arm movement.

CLARK WRECKED HIS DESK.

Pounded Away One Entire Section In Nine Months, Repair Men Find.

Repair men in examining the furniture of the house discovered that Speaker Clark had used his gavel with such effect that virtually the entire top of the desk was wrecked.

One entire section had been pounded away, leaving a large hole concealed by the green felt that covers the desk. The speaker throughout the session made vigorous use of the gavel on all occasions. According to old members, no speaker since Thomas B. Reed had employed the mallet with such freedom.

The Fuel Supply Needs Attention Only Three Times Each Day

The makers of Cole's Hot Blast Heater guarantee this stove to hold fire with soft coal 36 hours without attention. Your old stove and imitation stoves leak air and waste fuel because they are not air-tight, because they have putty joints.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater

—by means of the patented Hot Blast Draft and other patented features which make it tight, doing away with the use of stove putty—requires less attention than any other heater made.

All fuel—Soft Coal, Hard Coal, Lignite, Wood or Corn Cobs—contains a large amount of gas. Fully one-half of the heating power (carbon) in soft coal is gas. This is the part of the fuel this wonderful heater saves, by burning it with the Top Hot Blast Draft. This makes Cole's Hot Blast Heater the most satisfactory, the most economical, the most convenient heater you can buy. Imitations and other styles of stoves allow this gas-half of the coal to pass up the chimney with the smoke, unburned.

Thousands of these stoves are in use and the sale continues to increase year after year.

This heater will give you more comfort than you ever thought possible by using any kind of a stove which uses soft coal for fuel.

Right now is the time to decide and select the size you should have. Come in and see complete line of styles and sizes.

Price $12.00 and upwards—According to Size and Finish.
